Selfwinding Flying Tourbillon—George Condo

Black Version (1 of 5)

Code 11.59 by Audemars Piguet / Product Reference 26662BC.OO.D200VE.01

Part of an extremely limited series of five bespoke timepieces, this watch was created on special request from the American artist George Condo within the Code 11.59 by Audemars Piguet collection.

Timepiece

The 41 mm 18-carat white gold case is accented with a black bezel and paired with a striking black aventurine dial. The dial is dominated by the iconic “C O N D O” motif, in which each letter forms a miniature work of art executed using a different métier d’art: hand engraving, snow and gemstone setting, enameling, and hand painting. Colors directly reflect the palette of three original paintings created by George Condo in 1984.

Its composition is further enriched by microblasted white gold clouds with polished engravings, a polished pink gold shooting star in the middle of the dial, and special twisted hands in 18-carat pink gold, adding depth and a poetic dimension to the dial.

The watch is powered by the manufacture's selfwinding Calibre 2968 with flying tourbillon, visible through the sapphire caseback and adorned with Haute Horlogerie finishes in keeping with the standards of the Le Brassus Manufacture. Other features include a caseback engraved with the artist's signature and the individual numbering and a black “Epi” calfskin strap, delivered with two additional interchangeable straps in matching tones.

Presentation Box

Accompanying the watch is a presentation box specially designed and personalized by Audemars Piguet. Crafted from wood featuring a green-tinted Swiss fir veneer, the box stands out for its refined presentation and distinctive visual identity.

The interior is lined with red micro-fiber and includes a dedicated compartment to house an additional strap. It is further enhanced by an interior marking bearing the individual numbering of the watch, reinforcing the unique nature of the ensemble. A printed reproduction of George Condo's iconic painting The Cloudmaker also distinguishes the interior of the box.

Watch inspired by George Condo's painting, The Cloudmaker, 1984

"I was approached by Audemars Piguet to create a unique watch that would celebrate the 40-year anniversary of the painting I created in 1984 called The Cloudmaker. The watch itself was meticulously crafted in such a way that it would become a museum piece. The watch is one of the most exquisite works of art that exists on the planet, and not because it's of my painting, but because of the precision in the craftsmanship, adding jewels to the letters of my name just as I did in the painting, clouds in white gold with planets, and turquoise showing each side of the globe. I'm very proud of the collaboration that was created in Le Brassus and very happy that I was able to immortalize a painting into an object."
